

Telling the story of Assets: Vacancy / internship for an international storytelling project

Research Programme

The ASSETS project (Attaining Sustainable Services from Ecosystems through Trade-off Scenarios) is an interdisciplinary 4-year initiative started in 2012 and funded by the UK's Ecosystem Services for Poverty Alleviation Programme (ESPA). The project partners in the UK, Malawi, Colombia and Peru undertook research on ecosystem services (ES) for poverty alleviation at the forest-agricultural interface.

To inform policy and decision makers as well future donors but also NGOs and the wider public about its findings the projects needs to go beyond the traditional channels of academic publication and communication. That's why a storytelling project is carried out, which is designed to exhibit the most important results and essential experiences in an authentic but also emotional and exciting way.

The storytelling project is part of the ASSETS project and is conducted as cooperation between the University of Southampton and NARRATA Consult.
